KLICHÉ

Dear Mother and Daddy:

As a tribute to all the wonderful things that you have done for me, I present you this book as a symbol of the work you have done for me.

I think I have worked on this annual harder than anything I have ever done, and I hope you are as proud of it as I am!

No one could ask for more wonderful parents than you two. I am sure glad that I am out of school and have my job! Now I'm going to save my money. And you 2 keep after me to save it. Brenda and I figured it out that I could save $2,700 by next fall.

I am not really too disappointed about not going to college this fall. In a way I think it's better if I go to Community College and work and just take the courses I need. Sounds a lot more reasonable.

Love always,

Linda

BOARD OF EDUCATION

DISTRICT NUMBER NINE SCHOOL BOARD—Blanche Lemire, Clerk; Jim Coon, Karl Zweifel, John Davy, Jack Hornback, Ted Jacobs and Glenn Rosenberg.

In a democratic society all phases of activity that are supported by the people must have representatives of those people to help govern and to plan the policies. This is true, of course, of the school as well.

In Tillamook's District No. 9 this representation was achieved through the group pictured above for the school year 1957-1958. Five of the above are elected members of the Board of Directors of the school district; they represent a varied group of occupations, such as farming, logging, and labor in general. It is their responsibility to see that the schools of the area operate properly by planning the over-all policies, hiring the personnel to run the schools, and arranging a budget for the support. Together with the superintendent and clerk of the district they met in regular monthly meetings, and frequent special meetings, to keep the schools running smoothly during the year.

Chairman of the Board

JOHN DAVY

A series of spring meetings brought together this group and other selected members of the community to discuss the budget for the coming year. As district No. 9 represents a community of 200 students and 150 teachers and other personnel, it is easy to see that the responsibility of management is really great

The smooth operation of the high school during the year following the high sstandards asked by the people of the district attests to the successful management of the above board.

SENIORS

Officers and Advisors

Pat Warren, secretary; A' Gertzen, advisor; Hugh Rosenberg, president; Dorothy Smith, advisor; Jim McCabe, treasurer; and Connie Larson, vice president.

The main project of the senior class was to sponsor a Senior Ball, the theme of which was "My Blue Heaven." held annually at the Elks Temple in the early part of December, and presented the first formal dance of the school year, in which Jim McCabe was crowned king for the night.

For the second year in a row the senior class came out with top honors in the float contest which was decorated to the theme of "Come See Our Eleven in '57."

Barbara Thompson was elected editor of the TYV press club paper "The Link" at the first quarterly meeting of the year.

The top ten senior scholastically spent one day taking the Merit Scholarship test but none of the ten were able to pass the brain stopper quiz.

For the first time Tilla-Hi was honored by two full-time visiting foreign students; they were Renate Krieg from Homburg, Germany, and Jim McCabe from Honolulu, Hawaii.

Richard Machen received two honors, one being the State Conservation speech winner, and also was awarded $1000 bank scholarship with a guaranteed job upon graduation from college.

The chief money making project for the class was the play presented in November called "Onions in the Stew" which saw a small crowd the first night but the class canvassed the town thoroughly and saw a large audience for the second performance. The play provided many laughs and featured Dave Egerton and Pat Knutson as the leads.

Linda Kelly was awarded a trip to New York for her speech on United Nations which found Linda as a co-winner in this district, and she was selected as one of ten best speakers in a contest held in New York. Sponsors of the trip were the Odd Fellow and Rebekah Lodges.

JUNIOR CLASS

Deirdre Greenway, Edna Jesseph, Pat Steele, Betty Jean Warren, Leonard Sepak, and Tony Dooher.

The Junior year for the class of 1959 was a typically busy one, and started school with the problems of earning funds for the annual Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet. A ways and means committee was organized under the leadership of Miss Edna Jesseph and Mr. Tony Dooher, class advisors. Under their direction the class sponsored candy sales, cake sales, and car washes. The Junior class also presented the historical play, "Love is Eternal."

The juniors chose Pat Warren to represent them as Homecoming Princess and backed her with their full support. Fannie Gingerich was chosen March of Dimes Princess for 1958 and the class worked extremely hard managing to raise $280.00 for the worthy cause.

The junior class was well represented with Fannie Gingerich, Pat Melson Judy Knutson, and Judy Rethlefson as Song Leaders. There was also a large group of juniors in Pep Club helping to promote school spirit.

The junior class can conclude that they had a successful year with many contributions to the welfare of the school. Their leadership ability is illustrated by the fact that four of the student body officers came from the junior class. They were Vice President, Bob Baty; Secretary, Judy Rethlefson; Treasurer, Suzi Tibbetts; and Business Manager, Ron Buel.

FRESHMEN

Right: Dan Williams, Leon Thompson, Claudia Schelling, Pat Dunsworth, Mr. Lunda, Miss Lloyd.

IN MEMORIAM

This freshmen section is dedicated to the memory of Bruce Ralston, frehman, tragically killed in a hunting accident this year.

The freshman class, the class of '61, was very active this year in every sense of the word. They took part in almost every phase of school life including athletics, three school plays, clubs and had a large representation on the honor roll each semester.

Lee Ann Wyss, the freshman princess for Homecoming, was elected queen of this event due to the loyal support of her sponsoring class. Later Susan Chambers, frosh class princess for the March of Dimes, was also queen, again due to the excellent backing of the freshmen. The frosh contribution to this drive was $410.37, an average of $2.84 per person.

The class was well represented in freshmen athletics. In both football and basketball the team had an almost undefeated season. Later in the year a permanent trophy was presented to the school in honor of the outstanding frosh football player. This trophy was presented in memory of Bruce Ralston, a freshman boy who was killed in a hunting accident early in the year. The class was also represented in wrestling, track and baseball. In March the class was the recipient of a party given to them by the sophomores.

Advisers for the class were Jean Lloyd and Darrell Lunda.

STUDENT

This year's student council, headed by President Richard Machen and advised by Principal Don Spiering, carried on Tilla-Hi's government functions with much success.

The first major project was to organize the 1957 Homecoming, which was held on November 8th against Neah-Kah-Nie. They appointed John Irving as overall chairman, and made a few additions to the annual event. The first was a Registration day for all THS alumni. They also set aside a section in the grandstand, and introduced past THS football players during half time of the game. Another function the council performed was the forming of the J'Vetts, a new junior pep club to promote pep for the B squad.

The student council is made up of the home room representatives plus presidents from each class and clubs of the school, and of course the student body officers.

The school's finances were looking up this year as they had a balance of $1047.60 at the first of the year and by January 9th came up to $2107.09.

The subject of naming the football field was brought up and it was decided that each class would submit three names with a brief reason and history of the person or subject. Twelve names were put before the student body to vote on.

Principal Don Spiering accompanied Richard Machen, Linda Zygar, Suzi Tibbetts, and Judy Rethlefsen to the Oregon Youth Council. Richard also attended the Student Council Conference held during the summer.

The Council also backed the three drives that have become a tradition in Tillamook high school: The Goodwill Drive, the March of Dimes, and the Heart Fund. Contributions this year ranged higher than ever before, showing the splendid cooperation the students gave the council in such ventures.

his fingers and hope the Kilchis would turn out to be even half what they expected.

There was a plan behind all of this activity, however. The plan was to turn out a top-flight book, and the challenge of accomplishing such a goal kept the staff working diligently during and after school. A long sigh of relief was uttered by every staff member when March finally came and they settled into less strenuous activities such as working on the summer supplement.

Journalism

The Journalism I and II classes of THS were kept busy throughout the 1957-58 school year because they published the Tilla - Hi News every two weeks and also worked on radio school news for KTIL. The Journalism II group also assisted the Kilchis staff.

Barbara Thomson was elected editor of the TYV publication at the First TYV Press Club meeting in McMinnville. The journalism groups were hosts to the TYV Press Club in May.

Shown holding some trophies won by the FFA during the year are Ray Machen, Gale Martensen, Dave Leuthold, Bob Plaep, Richard Machen and Jim Mahurin. The flags came through the efforts of Richard Machen chiefly.

F. F. A.

The FFA were very outstanding in their activities this year. To start the year off they won both first and second place in the state fair dairy judging contest. Richard Machen, participating in the state speech contest, won first place with his speech on Soil Conservation. He also won second place in the FFA district speech contest. The FFA boys won a second place in a parliamentary procedure contest in district competition. During the month of February they also attended a state parliamentary procedure and speech contest.

All the students belonging to FFA must have a farm project of some sort. Up to the date of January 24th, the boys figured their projects were valued at $24,000 in all. To help some boys to have a project the school bought some 900 chickens in all for projects.

This year at the annual Tillamook county fair 32 of the FFA boys will participate and show their projects.

When the kids of Tillamook high school think, or talk of men, who comes to their minds but the Order of the "T". The "T" men of Tilla-Hi, under the leadership of Leon Anderson, did very well this year keeping up the good name of Tillamook high school.

The "T" men had a very big job during the 1957-58 school year. Their job consisted of keeping law and order throughout the school, keeping the kids from running up and down the halls, throwing things in the cafeteria, and keeping peace during assemblies. When someone grabbed you by the shoulder and dragged you to the office, you knew who it was.

These boys always were willing to participate in all sorts of activities in the school.

Some of the big money-making projects of the club have been the donkey ball game, the Barn Dance, which are held annually throughout each year. The Barn Dance was held in the gym with tons of hay hauled in and placed throughout the gym. The tunnel at the entrance proved to be the attraction of the dance.

The "T" men's latest idea for making money proved to be the snow cones that were sold at all games and recreations at a nice profit for the club.

One of the largest attractions of the year was the initiation of new lettermen. Remember, when all new initiates came dressed like old maids with lipstick smeared from head to toe, and those delicious onions they had to eat? They dreamed of what they could do to the initiates who would follow them in the strong-arm club of THS.

The senior class play "Onions in the Stew" was presented on the evenings of November 14 and 15, in the Tilla-Hi auditorium.

The senior class chose "Onions in the Stew" because of the opportunity of giving a large cast the chance to act. The dialogue has a human interest typical of teenagers and family life. The comedy story takes place on Vashon Island on Puget Sound, Washington.

Staging for the play was very unique.. One wall of the MacDonald home was done in knotty pine with a huge picture window in the background featuring a beach scene. A rough, stone fireplace added realism to the play. The house had nautical trimmings to lend to the beach effect. Quarrels between the two teenage daughters provided many good laughs. One daughter goes even so far as to bleach her red hair blond.

Love Is Eternal

Junior Class Play

"Love is Eternal," the junior class play was presented January 30-31 in the Tilla-Hi auditorium. It featured authentic 1857 costumes. The play was costumed and staged by Don Whitney, Tilla-Hi's dramatic director. For the elaborate hairdos of the period, a local man, Emil Heusser, donated hair switches for the leads, Bob Bassett and Gene Fisher, who played the part of Abe Lincoln in the double cast parts. Hairdos were also furnished for other characters in the play including Sue Tibbetts and Glenda Ackley who played Mary Todd, Abe's wife.

The plastic setting depicted a mood by the use of colored gelatin over the lights. Furnishings in black and oak represented the period.

Lending background interest was large silhouette pictures, Currier and Ives Prints, and a large picture of George Washington painted by Jean Godsey.

The play was in three acts with each act representing a different phase of Mary Todd Lincoln's life. In the first act she is in her teens, the second one is getting to know Abe, and in the third act she is married to Abe and they are living in the White House.

Bob Bassett, Glenda Ackley, Susan Tibbetts and Gene Fsiher.

Scene from Act II

The Green Pastures

The fabulous Pulitzer prize winning play, "Green Pastures," was presented in the Tillamook high school auditorium, April 25, 26, directed by Don Whitney. The play, with a terrific cast of 130 students, led by John Irving who very capably portrayed "The Lawd," was in complete Negro make-up.

"Green Pastures" is the spiritual attempt to show the beginning of the earth by the Negroes in the Deep South, who adapt the Bible to the consistencies of their everyday lives.

"Green Pastures" had never before been put on by an Oregon high school. Jeanette Smith was the student director of the play. Miss Virginia Barnett, music teacher, stated, "the turn-out for the chorus was fabulous, simply fabulous."

ASTORIA-20

TILLAMOOK-2

The Cheesemakers gave it all they had before one of the largest crowds ever to see a football game in Tillamook, but the team just could not seem to get the ball over the goal line, although they came very close. Astoria's end-arounds proved too much for the home crew's defense.

FOREST GROVE-6

TILLAMOOK-2

TILLAMOOK-13

NORTH BEND-14

TILLAMOOK-7

Coach Rosbach's charges tried gallantly to upset a highly rated North Bend team and almost pulled it off but time ran out before they could tie it up in the final quarter. The Tillamook TD was scored on a McCabe to Markee pass.

GRANTS PASS-28

TILLAMOOK-0

Grants Pass, one of the top football powers in the state, passed the Mooks dizzy in the first half but were held on fairly even terms by an inspired Tilla-Hi squad in the second half.

NEAH-KAH-NIE-7

The Cheesemakers were really up for this one and they gave the Homecoming crowd something to talk about by soundly defeating the Pirates from up north. Linda -

We sure have had a wonderful year this year haven't we? I rather doubt if I will ever forget the many good times we've had together. Especially the time we went to Portland and the tire went out on the way back. Then all the times we've went to Portland just to stay. We've had a lot of fun doing a lot of things in Tillamook too. We'll have to have some more fun some day soon. I hope you have a good future filled with fun and many nice times. I think you deserve the best in every way. Good luck in every way.

Sincerely Your Friend
Brenda Dallin
